

LOCAL INVENTOR HAS NEW STOGIE MAKING MACHINE

Girl Can Now Roll More
Stogies Than Skilled Man.

BUILDING NEW FACTORY

Great Demand for Machines
From All Parts of the World.

A machine which stogie manufacturers are declaring will almost revolutionize the making of stogies has been patented and placed on the market by J. S. Haggerty, Marion county stogie maker. Although the machines have been on the market but two months they are already in operation in West Virginia, Ohio, Virginia, Pennsylvania and New York, Havana, Cuba, and London, England.

The Haggerty machine rolls a stogie of any size or any length better fast than can be done by hand and also turns them out nearly twice as fast. With the Haggerty machines inexperienced girls can roll more and better stogies in a day than an experienced stogie maker could do working his hardest. The stogies are rolled tighter and smoother, more uniform in size and in every way superior to the hand rolled article. There is no other machine successfully competing with the Haggerty invention.

The girl operating the machine simply takes a handful of filler, clops it off to the length the stogie is to be, places it in a little trough before her, cuts the wrapper, places one end of it over the filler and pushes a pedal with her foot. Quicker than it can be told a stogie is ready to have its ends twisted and tossed into the pile. More orders for the machine than can be filled are being received by Mr. Haggerty, who is now having them manufactured in Morgantown. Such an insistent demand for the machines has developed however that he is now making arrangements for the building of a factory at Mannington where he will assemble the machines, having the castings made elsewhere by contract.

The Hutchinson Cigar Company, one of the largest stogie makers in this part of the country, has twenty-eight of the machines at work in their factory in the Old Normal school and expects to have a hundred busy a year from now. An inquiry came from Cuba a few weeks ago to have a sample machine sent there to be tested by some of the big cigar companies. Within a week there came an order to rush thirty of the machines as soon as possible.

E. M. Showalter Talks to Normal Students

The Republican club at the Normal school was addressed by the Hon. E. M. Showalter in Mozart Hall this morning, bringing to a higher pitch the enthusiasm the club is manifesting. The club now has a membership of more than a half hundred young men and women who are busy working for their cause. The speaker was introduced by Wilfred F. Bridges, president of the club.

Mr. Showalter outlined to the students the salient points of the campaign, appealing to them as students of an institution of higher learning. What the two dominant platforms mean rather than what they say, was also explained. There will be other speakers address the club soon, an interesting program having been mapped out by the club officers.

CLUB WOMEN WILL TALK ABOUT LAWS

Will Also Try to Work Out
Library Commission
Plan.

(By Associated Press)
WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 24.—Consideration of the proposed legislation which clubwomen of the state desire to present to the next State legislature hold the attention of the delegates when the thirteenth annual convention of the West Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs convened here this afternoon. In view of the fact that the state law makers will be in session next year, members of the organization hope to be able at this meeting to draw up into form practically all bills recommended by the convention for submission to the legislators. The present session is expected to be one of the most important in the history of the federation.

One of the principal topics to be considered will be the proposed library commission. Two years ago the state legislature passed a bill permitting counties to levy a small assessment for public libraries. A bill was also introduced providing for a commission but it failed to meet the approval of the federation which last year appointed a committee with Mrs. Guy R. C. Allen of Wheeling as chairman, to draw up a model bill. This committee is expected to make a report at this session. Prior to the opening of today's meeting the library commission was held. Miss S. Scollay Page, state chairman of literature and library extension presented and addresses were made by a number of authorities on library commissions.

The convention proper opened this afternoon. Following the opening preliminaries, committees were appointed and the report of the committee on civics and public health read. An address by Dr. Harriet B. Jones of Glendale on "The Work of the Tuberculosis League of West Virginia" followed. Miss Louise Kochert of Wheeling who recently returned after spending one year as a Red Cross nurse in Europe here today with the remains. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Town Talk

Baptists Honor Aged Members.—The congregation of the First Baptist church will do honor to the older members of the congregation on Sunday when a special Old Folks service will be held at the church at the morning session. A sermon will be delivered by the pastor, Rev. W. J. Eddy, and old time hymns rendered by the "old folks" will feature the service. Automobiles will be provided to bring the old folks to the church and each will be given a souvenir of the occasion.

Difficult Wiring.—Stretched out full length on an electric cable with an assistant balanced on a cross arm and steadying him by holding his feet, Pasty Bennett electrician for the Monongahela Valley Traction company, did a difficult bit of wiring today while hundreds of pairs of eyes were fastened on him. The wire on which he was balanced was on South Side bridge near the center, which held him suspended more than a hundred feet in the air above Coal run. The splice was at a point that could not be reached otherwise.

Rosier to Speak in Eastern Counties.—President Joseph Rosier of the Fairmont State Normal will go to Keyser Thursday where he will address an educational rally of the teachers of Mineral county. From Keyser Mr. Rosier will go to Cumberland where on Friday he will conduct a round table discussion at the semi-annual meeting of the Potomac Valley Round Table association. Mr. Rosier will also deliver an address at Elkins during the session of the Tygart's Valley Round Table association to be held on November 10 and 11.

At Cook Hospital.—W. T. Hartman underwent an operation for appendicitis at Cook hospital last night. Dr. Frank L. Hupp of Wheeling performed the operation assisted by Dr. W. H. Sands and Dr. L. D. Howard. He was resting in a satisfactory manner today although the operation was a severe one. Mr. Hartman has suffered several attacks of appendicitis in the last year.

Hughes Club to Meet.—President E. T. Kelley, of the Hughes Republican club, has called a meeting of that body Wednesday night in the club rooms at the Watson hotel. The meeting is scheduled for 8 o'clock and arrangements will be completed for the Robinson meeting here Friday.

Ray Sturm Honored.—Ray Sturm, of this city, who is a student at the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, has been elected president of the senior class of that institution.

Judge Westcott to Speak Here.—Local Democrats have obtained the promise of a noted speaker for Saturday night of this week. Saturday is the day picked for the nation-wide "Wilson Day." Judge Westcott, attorney General of New Jersey, who placed the president's name in nomination, will appear here at the Grand theatre under the auspices of the Wilson club. President Wilson is now planning a special note which is to be read by all the clubs on this day.

Irish Club at Normal.—A small group of Normal students have incurred the anger of all the Irish students by using a small piece of green billiard cloth beneath a badge of W. Wilson as their emblem. This Normal Wilson club is a great admirer of the note writing abilities of the president and the motto on the badge is "I proved the pen mightier than the sword." The Irish students do not approve of this motto.

Voice Instructor Cannot Speak.—Miss Virginia Mulvey, instructor in voice at the Normal school, is not able to meet any of her classes or special students this week because of a hoarseness which makes it impossible for her to speak above a whisper.

TABLEWARE PRICES ADVANCE.
EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Oct. 24.—Many potteries engaged in the manufacture of tableware have today notified their customers of a general advance of 20 per cent in selling prices. All goods are to be sold on the list now in force and 20 per cent will be added to invoices. There will be no discount based on the time of payment. This is the third increase in the tableware trade this year.

MRS. R. L. ROBEY DIES FROM LONG ILLNESS

Funeral Services Tomorrow
Interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Mrs. Bertha Lloyd Robey, wife of R. Lindsay Robey, died yesterday evening shortly after five o'clock at her home on Chestnut street after several weeks' serious illness. For the last two years Mrs. Robey had been in declining health following a severe attack of typhoid fever and for several months her health had failed rapidly.

Mrs. Robey was a daughter of the late Andrew J. and Sarah A. Lloyd and had resided here since childhood, having moved to this city with her parents from Philadelphia where the family formerly resided. She was united in marriage in 1907 to R. L. Robey, a well-known employee of the Western Union Telegraph company and since that time had resided in Clarksburg, Pittsburgh and for the last several months in this city. She is survived by her husband and two children, Florence Lloyd Robey and Helen Virginia, aged 8 and 6 years; beside her mother, three sisters, Mrs. Ellen Hildeman, wife of William Hildeman, the Misses Flora Clara and Sadie L. Lloyd, and two brothers, Frank A. Lloyd and George Lloyd, all of this city. Her father died several years ago and a brother, John Lloyd, died 18 months ago.

Mrs. Robey was a young woman with a kindness of spirit and a sunny disposition which had greatly endeared her to the hearts of members of her family as well as to a wide circle of warm friends. Her serious illness and death has occasioned the deepest sorrow and regret in her home and among her friends.

She was a member of the First Presbyterian church in this city and until prevented by ill health had been an active member in the Sunday school and Christian Endeavor society and a regular attendant at all church services. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence on Chestnut street, conducted by Dr. H. G. Stoetzer. Interment will be made in Woodlawn cemetery by Undertaker Cunningham.
